Why occupy free enterprise?

I agree with the protests, how many Madoffs will it take? 25% of our children go to bed hungry and the wealthy pay no tax. Our country has become a boggle for the mind. Julian Lewis

Do any of the protester's know what there protesting for? I am not sure of that I think it's a bunch of people that have too much time on their hands.....Hope they get out next election day and vote.....hey here's an idea maybe they should volunteer and get 100 percent of the voters out next election so we can have a real change

... And just what did the protests of the 60s md 70s change?

This will do no good. It is all run by big businesses. What is the real issue that they are protesting? I have read many reports and nothing is spelled out on what is trying to be done.

Are you nuts? I just visited their protest at Zuccotti Park in NYC, and they are all nuts!

The group has no real focus. seems like trouble for no good cause

Would you like to participate in an Occupy Wall Street event?

Yes. I'd like to add my voice to the cause. This is about my future and that of my family. 36%

Puhleez- we protested real issues in the 60s and 70s, this is ludicrous. 36%

Not really sure. 29%
